

Twentieth Annual Report on the Status of the Petroleum Cleanup Fund

10 VSA § 1941

January, 2008

This report includes a review of Petroleum Cleanup Fund receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year 2007. An evaluation of the effectiveness of the Fund in meeting its legislative intent, and a review of the reasonableness of remediation costs is also included. This report also includes recommendations to address funding shortfalls in the heating fuel account.

Executive Summary

This report marks the twentieth year that the Petroleum Cleanup Fund (PCF) has provided assistance to both commercial and residential petroleum tank owners in the state. This report will highlight the accomplishments of the fund over this 20 year period, as well as provide a review of receipts and disbursements for fiscal year 2007, in accordance with 10 V.S.A. § 1941. The report also evaluates the effectiveness of the PCF in meeting its legislative intent, discusses causes and solutions to the shortfall in the heating oil account and includes proposed legislative changes.

Over the past 20 years the PCF has provided reimbursements exceeding $87 million. These reimbursements have ensured remediation of petroleum contamination at gas stations, schools, homes, businesses, farms, churches, public work facilities and many other locations. Petroleum releases have been discovered at nearly 3,000 separate properties, with contamination discovered in drinking water wells, in the indoor air of homes and businesses, seeping into surface water bodies and at dangerous levels in public utility lines. For example, over 200 separate sites have been discovered where nearly 1,000 public or private drinking water wells have been contaminated. In an effort to prevent future releases, the PCF has provided loans and grants to encourage the removal or upgrade of older petroleum storage tank systems.

In FY07 the motor fuel account remained healthy and was able to provide timely reimbursements for cleanups. The motor fuel account was also able to fund more aggressive cleanup at older sites where monitoring showed there was little to no natural degradation of the contamination. Over the next few years, it is anticipated that there will be more and more sites where aggressive cleanups will be required. This will result in a greater level of cleanup funds needed than in past years. The fund maintained the required $1 million reserve which satisfies EPA's financial responsibility requirement for Vermont underground storage tank (UST) owners. The heating fuel account continued to have inadequate funds to address the demands, as the number and magnitude of heating fuel cleanups required more funds for cleanup than were collected annually. To compound the problem, there has been a downward trend to the receipts collected each year. To stabilize the heating fuel account, the Committee recommends an increase in the amount that can be transferred between accounts by the Secretary of the Agency of Natural Resources from $250,000/year to $750,000/year. The language for the proposed statutory change is included in this report.

The success of the PCF has hinged on the ability to pay timely claims to address serious public health and environmental threats caused by releases of petroleum. For this success to continue, it is important that a stable balance and funding source be maintained for the PCF. According to an actuarial study of the PCF dated January 2006, "The Fund is projected to be technically insolvent (projected liabilities exceed assets of the fund) through 2011. This does not consider any potential legislative transfer of assets from the fund. Such a transfer would extend the period that the fund is technically insolvent." In revisiting this study, the Committee found that the report used income estimates that were high and expenditure projections that were low, therefore the fund is likely to be technically insolvent beyond 2011. Recognizing that the fund liabilities exceed assets, it is important for the fund balance to not be diverted for other purposes. In addition, if such a diversion were to occur, there could be sanctions imposed by EPA against Vermont. The Energy Policy Act of 2005 signed into law by President Bush on August 8, 2005 reads: "The Administrator shall not distribute funds under subparagraph (A)(iii) of subsection (f)(1) to any State that has diverted funds from a State Fund or State Assurance program for purposes other than those related to the regulation of underground storage tanks covered by this subtitle, with the exception of those transfers that have been completed earlier than the date of enactment of this subsection."

Description and Purpose

This is the twentieth annual report on the status of the PCF. This report will look at the effectiveness of the fund in meeting its intended purpose, will review the status of cleanups from motor fuel and heating oil releases from both aboveground and underground heating oil storage tanks, will review the farm and residential underground storage tank (UST) and aboveground (AST) grant program and will provide future PCF projections and recommendations for changes to the PCF.

In 1985, the General Assembly enacted Vermont's first law to regulate the construction, maintenance and operation of underground steel tanks used for the storage of petroleum products. Act 66 of the 1985 session established standards for new construction, and set a deadline of June 30, 1998, later amended to December 22, 1998, for the removal or replacement of unprotected USTs.

In 1988 the Legislature created the PCF, and appointed this Advisory Committee to oversee the financing, effectiveness and conduct of the program. The primary purpose of the PCF is to protect public health and the environment by paying for cleanup and restoration of contaminated soil and groundwater caused by releases from underground petroleum storage tanks, and to compensate third parties for property damage and bodily injury. Many changes have been made since 1988, including the inclusion of pollution coverage for aboveground storage tanks (ASTs) and a farm and residential UST and AST grant program. The Fund also provides loans to small marketers and small towns for tank replacement, and to all tank owners for upgrades to spill and overfill leak detection equipment.

The PCF provides financial assurance to UST owners, who are required by state and federal law to provide coverage for up to $1 million for cleanup and $1 million for third party liability. Since such affordable comprehensive insurance coverage continues to be difficult to access for tank owners, the PCF fund enables tank owners to meet their financial responsibility (FR) requirements. By law, the U.S. EPA must approve the operation and viability of a state fund before it may serve as a financial responsibility mechanism for UST owners. EPA accepted Vermont's fund as a financial assurance mechanism in 1990, with the requirement that a minimum balance of $1 million be maintained.

In 2004, the Legislature enacted a fee on heating fuel to create a revenue source for the heating oil related activities funded under the PCF. The PCF was also divided into two separate accounts: a motor fuel account and a heating oil account, with both revenue and expenditures to be managed within each account. This report includes recommendations to address funding shortfalls in the heating fuel account.

Revenue for the motor fuel account comes from an annual assessment fee of up to $100 per tank on most underground tanks, and a "distributor licensing fee" of one cent per gallon of motor fuel sold in the state. Additional revenue comes from the repayment of loans, recovery of some costs from responsible parties, and interest accruing upon any cash balance in the fund. Revenue for the heating fuel account is generated from a licensing fee of one-half cent per gallon of heating oil and kerosene sold in the state.

Expenditures include the cost of cleanup, third party payments, loans to businesses and municipalities, grants to homeowners to assist in the removal of heating oil USTs and modest administrative expenses. Each uninsured cleanup undertaken in the state becomes eligible for fund assistance after the party responsible for the tank meets a certain "deductible," a co-insurance payment based on the circumstances of ownership. For commercial entities, the deductible is set at $10,000 per occurrence. For homeowners, a deductible of $250 must be met while owners of commercial heating oil ASTs require a $1,000 deductible.

The sunset date for collection of the motor fuel and heating fuel fees is April 1, 2011.

Risks to Fund Solvency

The PCF currently maintains a sufficient cash balance in the motor fuel account to address its current obligations, while the heating fuel account is inadequate to address current demands. An actuarial study was completed in 2005. This study found that the fund is projected to be technically insolvent (projected liabilities exceed assets of the fund) through 2011.

The large number of contaminated properties that are eligible for reimbursement under the Fund will continue to require significant PCF monies. One hundred and ten new sites were discovered in 2007 adding to the total of over 3,000 sites discovered statewide since 1988. This large number of contaminated properties will result in continued disbursements from the PCF. Additional funds are expected to be disbursed at older sites in part due to an EPA grant requirement to address the site backlog. Over 1,200 sites remain in an active status where PCF eligible work needs to be completed. This work will require continued funding from the PCF into the future.

Reimbursements for releases at heating fuel sites continue to remain consistent each year, averaging about $1.5 million per year, while income has been on a general decline averaging around $820,000/year. Although the heating oil account ended the fiscal year with a positive balance this was only accomplished due to a legislatively approved $750,000 transfer of funds from the motor fuel account. Heating fuel releases continue to be discovered each year at a consistent level due in part to an aging heating fuel storage infrastructure as well as an increased awareness of this program. In addition, more and more owners of property in Vermont are removing their heating fuel tanks, many of these the result of private insurance companies requiring this as a condition of renewing the homeowner's insurance policy. Heating fuel reimbursements have ensured remediation of petroleum contamination at schools, homes, businesses, farms, churches, public work facilities and many other locations. Figure 1 provides a breakdown of the heating oil sites by source that have received reimbursements from the PCF. The farm and residential grant program for heating fuel tanks continues to remain very successful, as there are more requests for grants than can be authorized each year.

Protecting human health and environmental exposure to contamination has been a hallmark of this fund. Petroleum releases have been discovered at nearly 3,000 separate properties, with contamination discovered in drinking water wells, in the indoor air of homes and businesses, seeping into surface water bodies and at dangerous levels in public utility lines. For example, over 200 separate sites have been discovered where nearly 1,000 public or private drinking water wells have been contaminated. To address human health and environmental exposures to releases the fund has authorized proactive measures which include rapid initial response to releases, providing bottled water and point-of-entry treatment for contaminated drinking water, aggressively recovering free product, protecting surface water bodies, indoor air remediation and mitigation of dangerous petroleum vapors. Sites that have a direct affect on public health and the environment pose the greatest risk to fund solvency. Over the history of the program, the sites that have affected public water supplies or sensitive environmental areas have required extensive remediation at a high cost to the PCF. A site discovered in 2002 in Hartland has over 30 public and private wells that have been contaminated with a gasoline additive, MTBE. This site will require a large disbursement of PCF monies to address this problem. In addition, there are 3 sites with multiple occurrences that have received reimbursements totaling more than $1 million each for remediation costs, 20 sites with cleanup costs less than $1 million but greater than $500,000 and 142 sites that have required cleanup costs less than $500,000 but more than $100,000 each (Attachments 3 & 4). When sites like these are discovered, cleanup work can continue, at a large fund expense, for as long as 5-10 years.

April 2007. 200 gallon release from AST. Floor drain in basement lead to Pike River in Franklin

Third party claims constitute an uncertain risk. Cumulative third party claims of $3.5 million to date represent only 5% of the total disbursements from the Fund. However, a major release in a critical area, such as a public water supply or high density residential area could result in a costly third party claim. It is important to maintain a sufficient balance in the PCF to ensure there are adequate funds to provide an immediate and effective response where public health is at risk.

Contaminated water supplies represent the majority of all third party claims. Future discovery of contaminated public water supplies is anticipated, since there are 46 leaking underground storage tank sites located in close proximity to public water supplies. There are an approximate 450 private wells at 150 sites serving an estimated population of over 1,350 people that have been contaminated by petroleum from leaking USTs. Attachment 7 shows the distribution of sites with a direct and immediate effect on public health and the environment over the past seventeen years. The Fund continued to provide reimbursements to municipalities where petroleum contaminated soils were encountered during public water or sewer lines projects. The added cost of properly handling the contaminated material as well as having proper personal protection for the on site workers is a third party cost eligible for reimbursement from the Fund. Each year this is an uncertain risk to the Fund.

Potential future legislative transfer of funds continues to be a risk to fund solvency. According to the actuarial study, "The Fund is projected to be technically insolvent (projected liabilities exceed assets of the fund) through 2011. This does not consider any potential legislative transfer of assets from the fund. Such a transfer would extend the period that the fund is technically insolvent." Maintaining a healthy cash balance is important to the long-term success of the fund.

Review of Receipts to the Fund

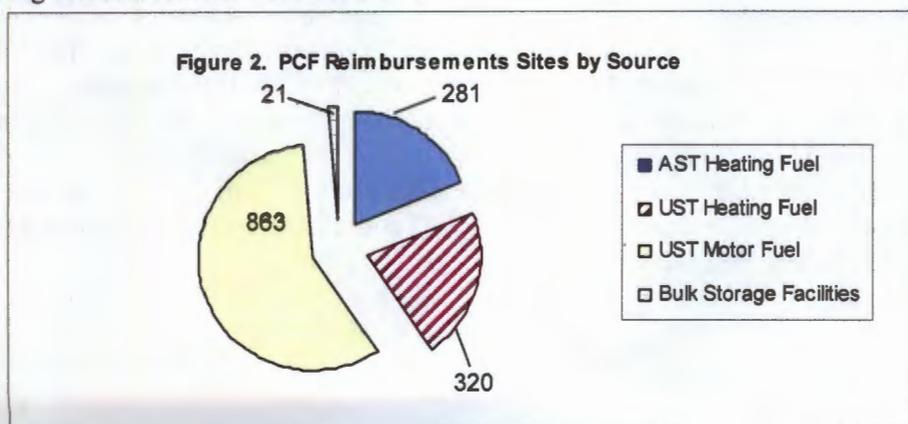

A review of fund receipts for FY06 is summarized in Attachments 1 and 5. In FY06, total fund receipts for the motor fuel account were $5,485,431. Owners of "Category One" storage tanks paid $206,868 in tank assessment fees. This was a reduction over past years as the annual tank assessment fee was reduced from $200/tank to $100/tank. The distributor licensing fee, a one cent assessment per gallon of motor fuel sold in the state, contributed $3,908,381. Other income includes the repayment of loans, $202,868, and interest income of $204,658. In addition, the state reached a settlement with an insurance company and recovered past costs totaling $750,000.

In FY06, total fund receipts for the heating fuel account were $827,809. This represented the collection of the 1/2 cent per gallon fee on heating fuels. In addition, there was $750,000 transferred from the motor fuel account.

Review of Disbursements from the Fund

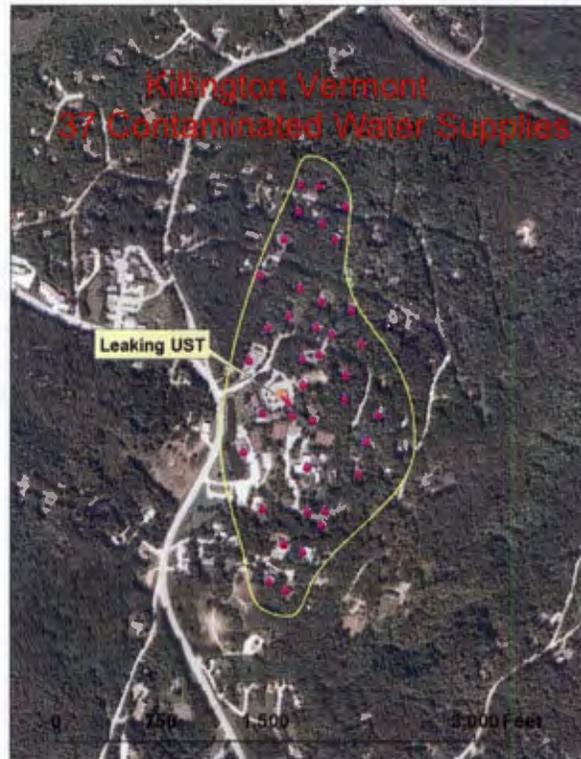

A review of fund disbursements for FY06 is summarized in Attachments 1, 2, 3 and 4. A review of fund disbursements over the history of the PCF is summarized in Attachment 6. In FY06, motor fuel account disbursements totaled $3,409,452 and heating fuel disbursements totaled $1,450,844. These included $2,903,051 for remedial action for UST motor fuel sites, $64,591 for the UST replacement loan program, $88,852 for the residential UST removal grant program, $76,349 for the residential AST removal grant program, $818,975 for remedial action for UST heating fuel sites, $595,411 for remedial action for AST heating fuel sites, $240,000 for administrative costs, and $201,811 for third party claims.

Disbursements for remediation represented a total of 1,485 different sites (Attachment 3 & 4), which includes sites which began remediation in prior years. Figure 2 provides a breakdown of the different type of sites receiving reimbursement from the PCF.

Three of these sites have received reimbursements totaling more than $1 million each for remediation costs. One of these cost over $1.5 million; however, this site involves two separate properties where releases occurred, but the contamination is being managed as one site due to their close proximity and their effect on a public water supply. One other site involves significant contamination to a bedrock aquifer. The graphic below details the extent of drinking water contamination caused by a leaking underground petroleum storage tank in Killington, VT.

In all, 1,292 sites in 196 different towns have had investigations or cleanups that have benefited from the use of the Fund. Attachment 8 shows the distribution of these sites throughout the state.

Third party claims continue to represent a small portion of overall disbursements (5%). To date the PCF has paid $3,550,329 for all third party claims, with $245,937 in FY07 (Attachment 3 & 4).

Investing in Prevention Activities

Important spill prevention activities have been funded by the PCF over the years. These have included providing grants to farm and residential properties to remove and replace aging aboveground and underground heating oil tanks, and to provide interest free loans to upgrade underground storage tanks. The home heating oil tank removal grants were implemented (for USTs in 1998 and AST in 2004) to get aging and problem tanks removed and replaced before leaks and releases occurred. The average cleanup cost for home heating USTs is $18,752, and ASTs is $11,409. In FY07, we surpassed the $1M mark for tank removal/replacements ($1,005,983) which represents over 1,000 tanks removed from the ground. The PCF Committee believes these grants have been an excellent investment, as cleanup costs could have cost the fund over $15 million if all of these tanks had leaked before they were removed.

February 2007. AST ruptured resulting in 150 gallon spill at farm in Alburg

In total, 41 grants were approved in FY07 for the closure of residential heating oil USTs with 31 grants being paid out (FY04 and FY05 grants) totaling $31,000. This brings the total UST grants awarded since 1998 to $779,983. In addition, 114 grants were approved in FY07 for the replacement of residential heating oil ASTs, with 109 grants being paid out, totaling $90,591. This brings the total AST grants awarded since 2004 to $226,000.

In calendar year 2007 eight UST upgrade loans were closed for a total amount of $110,801. Seven loan applications are in process with closings to be scheduled in 2008. The Agency continues to contract for the services of a certified accountant to review tank owner's financials for determination of ability to repay and suggested collateral for each loan. The amount outstanding on loans is $610,738. The loan program's first loan was closed on January 12, 1990 in the amount of $40,000. In 18 years, the program has loaned a total of $6.3 million.

The 2007 legislative changes made to the UST Loan program has provided a means for owners in need of funding to upgrade their tanks and has encouraged owners with tanks replaced in the late 1980s to consider replacing all or part of their tank systems with newer equipment. The tank industry technology has improved considerably in the last five years making some of the equipment installed 20 years ago to be quite antiquated.

In 2007 owners of 20 facilities reported 25 problems with double walled tank systems. Sixteen tanks at 11 facilities failed to meet the required corrosion protection and 9 tanks at 9 facilities failed due to product or water in the interstitial space. Corrosion protection on the tanks was restored by either the installation of supplemental anodes or an impressed current system. The cost to restore corrosion protection can be substantial and requires the expertise of a corrosion specialist or corrosion engineer. Tanks with inner wall failures can be repaired by lining but tanks with outer wall failures have no repair option. Fortunately because of the double walled construction none of the failed tanks caused a release to the environment.

Effectiveness of the Fund in Meeting Its Purpose

The fund was effectively able to meet its purpose of funding cleanups and providing financial assurance for underground storage tank owners in Vermont. There was an adequate balance in the motor fuel account and claims were processed in a timely manner.

The fund was not able to effectively meet its purpose in addressing contamination from heating fuel tanks. There was an inadequate balance of funds in the heating fuel account to cover all the costs of remediating heating fuel releases. A legislatively authorized transfer of $750,000 from the motor fuel account allowed for the continued cleanup at identified sites. Without this transfer, there would likely have been delays in site cleanup which would have increased the risk of exposure to petroleum contamination in the environment.

Reasonableness of the Cost of Cleanup

In past years, the committee has reviewed the written policies and procedures of the DEC related to UST replacement, eligible costs and reimbursement procedures. In assessing the reasonableness of the cost of cleanup, the committee reviewed national averages and comparative data from other states. The PCF Advisory Committee has concluded that agency staff responsible for this program has exercised prudent cost containment measures. A review of an annual survey conducted by the Association of State Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Funds shows that Vermont's cost of cleaning up contaminated sites is below those of other states. The continued efforts of Agency staff have helped to maintain reasonable cleanup costs in Vermont. The implementation of Vermont's pay-for-performance cleanup agreements has also helped to control costs.

Recommended Statutory Changes to Chapter 59

1. The Committee proposes the following statutory changes:

Sec 2. 10 V.S.A. § 1941(a) is amended to read:

(a) A fund to be known as the petroleum cleanup fund is created in the state treasury, to be expended by the secretary of the agency of natural resources. The fund shall consist of licensing fees and petroleum tank fees assessed under the provisions of this chapter, loan repayments, and disbursements that have been recovered, except for underground storage tank permit fees and licensing fees for tank inspectors. The fund shall have two accounts: the motor fuel account and the heating fuel account. The motor fuel account shall consist of all moneys deposited into the fund, with the exception of the licensing fees for heating oil and kerosene described in section 1942 of this title. The heating fuel account shall consist of all the moneys deposited into the fund from the licensing fees for heating oil and kerosene sold or used in the state. All balances in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall be carried forward and remain a part of the fund. The secretary may transfer money, in each fiscal year, between the accounts, provided that the transfer is approved by the advisory committee established under subsection (e) of this section and does not exceed ~~$250,000.00~~ $750,000.00. Interest earned by the fund shall be deposited into the fund.

Disbursements from the fund shall be made by the state treasurer on warrants drawn by the commissioner of finance and management. The secretary shall seek to recover from responsible parties costs incurred under subdivision (b)(8) of this section.

For each site with an affected receptor the number of actual Vermonters exposed to contamination can vary. The actual users for public water supplies can be as low as 25 people per system to as high as many thousands of users. For sites with affected private water supplies, the number of contaminated wells depends on the specific conditions of the site. On average there are approximately three contaminated wells discovered per site, with an average of 3 users per household. However, one of the 147 sites listed above involved contamination to over 80 wells affecting approximately 240 users, and a site discovered in 2002 involves contamination to over 30 wells, including a public water supply, affecting 100s of users. Sites with surface water impacts can affect both public health and the environment. High concentrations of petroleum in a stream can cause detrimental affects to biota; and lead to an increased exposure to stream users. Lastly, sites with indoor air impacts can lead to the greatest risk to public health. Petroleum vapors entering a home can be at levels that are explosive. More often petroleum vapors reach levels that pose a serious health risk. Of the 120 sites with indoor air impacts, the number of exposed individuals varied from site to site. An average site involves three homes affected with approximately three persons per home.

Sites that are discovered with contamination affecting a sensitive receptor requires immediate response. It is critical that the Petroleum Cleanup Fund maintain an adequate balance so that there are no delays in efforts to mitigate the serious public health and environmental threats presented at these sites.
