Project Location: I-91 Bridge over Williams River in Rockingham, North of Exit 6

Flooding Source: North Branch Williams River

Project Description: This project is part of a larger project to reconstruct the interstate bridges spanning the Williams River in Rockingham, VT. Specifically, this FHARC Registration allows for the construction of a fill pad to be temporarily placed within the River Corridor. The fill pad will be used for equipment staging and material storage.

Based upon the Findings contained in this authorization, the Secretary has determined that the proposed project complies with the requirements of the 2016 Flood Hazard Area & River Corridor General Permit and the Flood Hazard Area & River Corridor Rule (Environmental Protection Rule, Chapter 29) and is hereby approved subject to the conditions of the 2016 Flood Hazard Area & River Corridor General Permit and this authorization.

I. Findings

The Secretary of Natural Resources has determined that:

- (a) The project is located within the river corridor.
- (b) This project is exempt from municipal regulation because it is a State-owned and operated institution or facility.
- (c) This project authorization includes the installation of a fill pad necessary to access a temporary work trestle needed to construct new bridge piers. Materials stored on the fill pad may include: steel storage containers moved regularly depending on active work, rebar and concrete forms continually cycled through the project site, existing rocks currently used as bank armoring, and cranes which will be moved outside the river corridor during occurrences of high water. All materials are proposed to be cycled on and off the site throughout construction, estimates through 2019. None of the materials are proposed to be onsite continually for more than 180 days.

- (d) Based on the information provided by the applicant, the project is an eligible activity and will meet the standards in the above-referenced General Permit, if built as proposed.
